Opening Day At St. Richard School

Richard School welcomed its students back to classes on Aug. 21st. Parents of threeyear-old students were allowed to walk in and help settle in their children that are attending school for the first time.

Due to the solar eclipse, some teachers viewed the event with their students on the promethean board and conducted assignments geared toward unique experience.

For student shadow days or school tours, call (773) 582-8083. Pictured is Mrs. Ashley Zundel's third grade classroom; viewing the eclipse from a I'll tell you a little story I made up. It's an analogy made up for people to understand. There was a family that every week spent more money than came in. One of their children gets married, but spending does not decrease. Matter of fact, the $50 a month rent the child made was offset because the family hired a specialist at $75 a month to cut the grass.

In a matter of time, the family maxed out all its credit cards. So what did they do? They hired a specialist at $200 a month to tell them how to save money. The specialist did find a few things, so they gave the specialist a raise.

A year later, the specialist says simply you need more money. So your parents pay your bills. Now if you add many zeroes to these numbers, you can see the analogy between the family and the Board of Education. Where did you find such a silly story to make an analogy of? I found it in the Sun-Times article on August 13th, by the Watchdogs. You, of course, could read the article to make your own analogies, but I think mine are close enough for people to understand. You will see that the broke CPS spent $4 million to outside consultants on "cost savings" and spent from $65 to $190 an hour, in part to do work in central office by staff let go to meet budget demands. There has been very little outcry and I talked to many citizens and very few knew of this. While the Sun-Times did excellent research using CPS statistics and help from The Freedom of Information Act, the stations most people listen to didn't cover this. This is one subject that people have seem to get a pass. It seems that some of the stations are only concerned with Russia, or Charlottes-ville. Yet this probably effects our children more than anything else. Remember to get your kids ready for the start of school. Especially getting their schedules and sleep time straightened out.

Opening Day At PJPII School

Classes are in full swing for the 2017-18 school year at Pope John Paul II School. On Aug. 17th, a back to school night provided the opportunity for students to meet their teachers, followed by an outdoor movie on a giant screen in the parking lot. The official first day was Aug. 21st, the day of the solar eclipse. Mother Nature gave the teachers some great science material to start their lessons early. Pictured are Mrs. Castillo and the 1st grade class.

Awareness Month For Immunization

The Illinois Department of Public Health is recognizing August as National Immunization Awareness Month as a reminder that vaccines protect against serious and potentially life-threatening diseases. Vaccines give parents the safe, proven power to protect their children from diseases like measles and whooping cough (pertussis).

Many vaccine-preventable diseases are still common in other parts of the world. For example, measles is brought into the U.S. by unvaccinated travelers who are infected while in other countries. When measles gets into communities of unvaccinated people in the U.S. (such as people who refuse vaccines for reli-gious, philosophical, or personal reasons), out-breaks are more likely to occur. Illinois experienced a measles outbreak in 2015 in a daycare in which 12 of the 13 cases were infants too young to be vaccinated.

Vaccines are thoroughly tested before licensing and monitored after they are licensed to ensure they are very safe. The vaccination schedule has been scientifically shown to be safe. Although children continue to get several vaccines up to their second birthday, these vaccines do not "overload" the immune system. Vaccines contain only a tiny amount of the antigens (the parts of the germs that cause the body's immune system to respond) that your child encounters every day, even if your child receives several vaccines in one day.

When a child develops a disease like whooping cough, chickenpox, or the flu, they may miss several days of school. It could also mean lost money because a parent or caregiver will need to stay home to provide care and make trips to the doctor.
The State of Illinois

requires vaccinations to protect children from a variety of diseases before they can enter school. For school entrance, students must show proof of diphtheria, pertussis, tetanus, polio, measles, mumps, rubella, haemophilus influenza type b, hepatitis b, and varicella, as well as pneumococcal and now meningococcal (depending on age) vaccinations.

Families who need help paying for childhood vaccines should ask theii health care professional about the Vaccines for Children program, which provides vaccines at no cost to eligible children. For information, call (312) 746-6050.

VFW Promotes Forever GI Bill

Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U.S. and its Auxiliary are applauding President Trump for signing into law the Harry W. Colmery Veterans Education Assistance Act of 2017 which protects the benefits they've earned, expands access and eligibility.

The VFW is proud to have played a key role in its creation and passage," said National Commander Keith Harman, "because the new law comes none too soon for more than 30 GI Bill recipients at a for-profit law school in Charlotte, N.C., that suddenly closed."

Emergency grants of up to $5,000 will help impacted student veterans through the transition as they wait for their educational benefits and living stipends to be restored. For more information, www.vfw.org.

Enrollment For Early Learning

launched the enhanced universal preschool application designed to improve access and help families to identify options for early learners. This online site provides a single point of entry to access a menu of over 600 programs for three- and four-year olds available under Chicago Public School Department of Family and Support Services and community based sites. Over 10,000 preschool applications have been submitted for upcoming school year.

Families of children who will be three- of fourvears old on Sept. 1st, 2017 can now submit applications online for enrollment in fall 2017 early learning programs.

The online application process allows parents to receive real-time information about program availability in their desired location, eliminating the need to visit multiple sites to apply for preschool. Notifications for placement in programs for the upcoming school year will continue to be accepted on a rolling basic, prioritizing families based on need.

Families can access support in the application process at Neighborhood Resource Centers located in Chicago Public Library Branches including McKinley Park and West Lawn.

CPS Announces Positive Trend

As CPS elementary students continue to beat national averages for math and reading, a record low number of elementary school students in need of summer school remediation has dropped by 46 percent in four years. This summer 5,902 students needed summer school, down from 10,986 in 2014 when CPS adopted the current grade promotion policy.

Summer Bridge and Summer Acceleration programs provide students with additional support in reading and math if they are struggling to meet academic benchmarks in grades 3,

This positive trend is consistent with academic gains across a wide range of milestones, including record high NWEA scores. In the 2016-17 school year, a record 61.4 percent of students met or exceeded the national testing average in reading and 55.9 percent of students met or exceeded the average in math.

Beer Festival At Brookfield Zoo

ZooBrew will return to Brookfield Zoo on Friday and Saturday, August 25th and 26th from 5 to 9 p.m. The 21-and-over event, sponsored by Blue Moon Brewing Company, offers zoogoers the chance to sample more than 80 ales, lagers, stouts, porters, and malts while taking in wildlife and nature.

Other features are a variety of food options, live music, and a silent auction that features memorabilia from participating breweries. On August 25th, local band To the 9's will entertain guests. The following evening, Fletcher Rock-well will have everyone dancing. A variety of ticket options are available, all of which include free parking and admission to the zoo that day from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. General admission tickets ($55) include 3 oz. samplings from more than 80 beers and a commemorative ZooBrew tasting glass. VIP tickets ($85) on Aug. 25th only, include early admission to the ZooBrew tent at p.m.; access to the VIP Beer Garden, featuring samplings of select specialty brews, snacks, and food provided by Chuck's Southern Comforts Cafe; a visit with some of the zoo's ambassador animals; 3 oz. samplings of more than 80 beers; and a commemorative ZooBrew beer mug. A general admission designated driver ticket ($35) and a VIP designated driver ticket ($45) are also available and include unlimited soft drinks (no beer sampling allowed).

All tickets will be an additional $10 on the day of the event. Tickets are limited and available at CZS.org/ZooBrew.

nia Cemetery.

The Illinois Department of Transportation and Illinois State Police joined members of Mothers Against Drunk Driving and the Alliance Against Intoxicated Motorists at the Illinois State Fair to remind motorists of the importance of driving sober, 20 years after implementation of its 0.08 DUI legislation. Since the 0.08 law was enacted, alcohol-impaired motor vehicle crash fatalities in Illinois have dropped by about 43 percent. In 1996, the year before the law took effect, 534 people died in crashes involving at least one driver who was at or above the 0.08 level. In 2015, just more than 300 people died in alcohol-impaired crashes.

As Labor Day approaches, state and local law enforcement will be reminding motorists of the importance to drive sober and ramping up en-forcement efforts through a "Drive Sober or Get Pulled Over" campaign.

Through Sept, 5th, the traveling public can expect to see roadside safety checks throughout the state and increased patrols for impaired drivers and seat belt law offenders.
