Young Visitors From Europe

By Dr. R. Pletsch

I have met many American kids taking a semester abroad in Europe, using the time to explore and appreciate other nations and some of the culture. I have also met many foreign nationals attending American colleges. Recently, I met a small group of college kids from Europe. They met in a hostel and decided to visit the USA together. They were from five different countries, but all spoke English. They came from Croatia, Germany, Italy, Spain, and Sweden.

I asked them the obvious question: Why visit the US? Their answer was that we are such a huge nation, there is a lot to see, and it was their families' beliefs we were about the safest place in the world to travel.

I asked what they had seen in Chicago, they mentioned places all kids should visit, The Aquarium, Field Museum, and Planetarium. They said

Adult Classes At Daley College

Daley College, 7500 S. Pulaski, is offering Adult Classes for the summer term. Offerings include: Monday - Introduction to Sign Language and Word II. Tuesday - Learn How to Use 3D Printer. Wednesday - Introduction to Microsoft Office Suite and Intermediate Sewing Apparel Making. Thursday - Latin Dance. Friday - Conversational Spanish. To register go to <http://apps.ccc.edu/scheduling/continuing> (choose Daley College Main Campus) or visit room 1110.

For more information, call (773) 838-7545.

that depending on the weather, they would go to Navy Pier that evening and a Cubs game the next day.

I asked what observations they had made so far. Some you might find surprising. They found Chicago much cleaner than they had expected. They had been told no one liked Trump, and they found that completely wrong. They were told Americans did not appreciate culture. Yet they see an opera singer performing in a car commercial. They said they don't even see that in Europe. The thing they really noticed was that the women's World Cup Soccer tournament is going on, the US has a top-ranked team and expected to win, but no one they talked to seemed to even know about it.

So parents, do not assume everyone is the same. Like these kids thought about us. Let your kids grow, experience and learn. Use the summer to attend some of our great museums. Look on their websites, most have some free days. Don't let the kids waste their time just using their thumbs. Assist them in using their brains.

Brain Games For Summer Learning

The Museum of Science and Industry is conducting its eighth annual Summer Brain Games program that explores the connection between science and play, letting kids make their own toys with nine science-based activities that are available for free on MSI's website.

Activities allow children to use household items to build their own toys - using STEM concepts, including: Vibrations with Sound Sandwiches: Feel the vibration created when a rubber band moves between craft sticks. Use scissors to cut leftover straws to create a musical instrument. Physics with Toothpick Tops: Design a spinning top with toothpicks, scissors, newspaper, a ruler and some tape to discover how to best design a never-ending spiral. Engineering with Kites: Build your own kite using a large, heavy-duty trash bag.

"Studies show that on average, students lose about one to three months of learning by the time they return to school in the fall," said Bryan Wunar, MSI's director of community initiatives. "Summer Brain Games counteracts this deficit by providing students and their family's access to free science learning opportunities through fun at-home experiments and games."

Families must register online to receive emails with instructions for nine science games.

Summer Brain Games, sponsored by Wintrust, is a free program for families. Those who register online at msichicago.org/summer-brain will receive a free Museum Entry voucher (one ticket per household).

In Memory Of Albert D. Silinski 6/25/63 - 8/30/87 The initial shock has long ago faded, just sadness tugs at our hearts. Memories of your smile and laughter remain. The glimmer in your eyes when you thought something was funny, the manner in which your jokes were told. We miss your tender way, and gentle personality. Your loving family
