Electric Cars and Zero Emissions

By Dr. R. Pletsch

Many people are looking into electric cars and zero emissions components of the Biden mandates. Very few do actual reading for themselves. Polls show that both left and right seldom read outside the mainstream media to seek the actual

There was a "Nova' broadcast recently that I believe is very even-handed and explained many portions of the problem that many of us are unaware of. The science of emission control is doing well and has many systems for large buildings to be very efficient in carbon control. Now it is "very expensive". They gave cost by the kilowatt consumption, so I for one could not figure what the actual cost to people would be. Of course, big buildings write it off in taxes which helps the air but China and India are putting much more into the air than we now can the problems that have been a problem for the scientists, that is the lithium batteries. It has been reported widely that there have been many fires caused by these batteries. Some manufacturers are quoted as saying 'for safety, do not park in a garage that is attached to your home" because most people have been charging their batteries in their own garage. These batteries are a significant problem if you want to take a long trip. The charging stations for a car on empty take from anywhere from 30 minutes to overnight. If you pull in and there are several vehicles charging, it will take a very long time. Guess who we sold most of our lithium to -- communist China. Who has to find how to get rid of the waste which at this time is just being buried along with most parts of the windmills because of the many chemicals contained in these items?

The electric cars have added so much weight because of the batteries that there are reports of public parking structures sinking in the soil or collapsing. I am sure there are many scientists working to get rid of the lithium batteries. Sometimes they find the solution or they go to something else. the Hindenburgh, mean anything to you? The Chicago Department of Aviation and Department of Cultural Affairs and Special Events announced the installation of "REACH," a new large-scale sculpture by New York-based artists Hank Willis Thomas Coby and Kennedy in the Multi-Modal Facility at O'Hare

International Airport. "REACH" consists of two arms, approximately 27 and 31 feet long, suspended between 9 and 34 feet high in the North Escalator Hall of the multi-model faculity. Viewers approaching the three-story hall through the tunnel from the public lobby will see a massive beckoning hand overhead. The experience will dynamically change for viewers coming from the upper levels of the parking structure, with the sculpture appearing at eve level from the top floors and towering overhead as they descend the escalators to pass through and underneath the iridescent arms.

Celebrates Arbor Day

Lincoln Park Zoo

Courtesy of Lincoln Park Zoo

On April 28th, Lincoln Park Zoo celebrated Arbor Day with free activities, including inviting guests to visit the nearly 300-year-old bur oak tree and bid it farewell before its impending removal.

Guests writing thankyou notes to the tree, viewed archival photos, played leaf identification and tree-ring counting The tree's legacy will live on in partnership with the The Morton Arboretum, where 36 of its scions were grafted onto rootstock for propagation, preserving its genetics. Slices of the tree will be provided to the Illinois Archaeological Survey to support dendrological and climate studies in Cook County. The level of degradation within the tree's trunk will determine its ability to live on in other ways, but the zoo is hoping to dry, mill, and preserve slices of the tree for memorials, educational tools and nature play spaces.

A map of oaks, general arboretum tour, and list of the zoo's accredited hibiscus collection, along with a full database of plants on zoo grounds is available at lpzoo.gardenexplorer.org.

Grand Marshal For Memorial Parade

Major General Rodney Boyd

The City of Chicago and Department of Cultural Affairs and Special Events to announce the Marshal for Grand Chicago's Memorial Day Parade and Wreath Laying Ceremony on Saturday, May 27th at 11am at Daley Plaza, 50 W. Washington st. The parade will step off at noon and proceed south on State street from Lake street to Van Buren street.

Major General Rodney Boyd, Assistant Adjutant General – Army of the Illinois National Guard and Commander of the Illinois Army National Guard. will serve as Grand Marshal. Originally from Chicago's South Side, he is the highest-ranking African American Officer in Illinois National Guard's 300 year history.

The City of Chicago will honor fallen heroes and Gold Star family members who have lost a loved one in the United States Armed Forces to combat operations or while on active duty. Approved by Congress beginning in 1947, Gold Star Lapel Pins and the Next of Kin Lapel Pins are presented to families as symbols in remembrance of their fallen loved ones and their ultimate sacrifice.

The Illinois National Guard is celebrating their 300-year anniversary by commemorating significant dates in its history. Founded on May 9, 1723 the Illinois National Guard continues to draw its strength from the com-

The Wreath Laying Ceremony at 11am will also be livestreamed at Chicago.gov/live. For additional information, visit Chicago.gov/DCASE.

Park District Offers Lifeguard Incentives

The Chicago Park District announces a one-$600 retention bonus, that will be paid to year-round lifeguards and summer lifeguard candidates who successfully complete all required trainings, and fulfill their duties during the summer season. In an effort to encourage swimmers to apply for the seasonal lifeguard position, and help retain qualified applicants, the District is also providing incentives to candidates, which include tickets to Chicago Fire FC soccer home games upon completion of the Life-guard Swim Test and a chance to win a one-day pass to Chicago's Lolla-palooza concert, and a

Divvy membership pass. Only a portion of qualified applicants have completed the required skills-test and certification requirements. The $600 retention bonus for lifeguards will further help encourage applicants to satisfy the conditions required to fulfill the onboarding process

During the summer, the average current wage will be raised to an equivalent of $17.45/hour for new and returning hires, and over $18 for current year-round lifeguards. Bonus payments will be divided in two equal payments to be distributed with employee payroll checks during the season. Summer lifeguards are highly skilled, must pass specific skill tests and be properly certified, and as a result have always been more highly compensated than most other District seasonal staff. This year, the District is also covering the $85 cost for the required American Red Ĉross Waterfront Lifeguard Certification training, and compensating prospective lifeguards for completing the Lifeguard three-day Training Academy. The District has budgeted approximately $20 million to invest in seasonal positions, including Lifeguards and Recreation Leaders. Roughly $12 million in wages and other compensation are earned by teens and young adults.

In early March, the District began soliciting candidates for lifeguards as part of the summer jobs campaign, "Your Perfect Summer Job," and has received a favorable number of applicants to operate one of the largest aquatics programs in the country, and to ensure visitors can enjoy our beaches and pools safely

At the end of the Summer, seasonal lifeguards who complete their job duties with a favorable, supervisory review, will be eligible for a seamless transition to year-round employment as a Chicago Park District lifeguard. This provides a great opportunity for individuals who want to work at our parks part-time or looking to pursue lifeguarding as a full-time career.

Seasonal Lifeguards must be 16 years of age, pass specific skill tests and be properly certified. For more information to apply, visit chicagoparkdistrict.com/ lifeguards.
