

Much of the World Looks to the Right

By Dr. R. Pletsch

The world is undergoing a slow move to the right. Their press has been less critical of the U.S. since our Presidential election. It appears that many nations are glad of the expected stability of the new U.S. administration. I have several friends who still hold to the idea that Europe hates Americans. Some of which believe in saving tree frogs instead of humans. While any of us can look at the situations and concoct our own reasons and results. However, it has been a whole long time since the press has expressed ideas that they have noted lately. Many nations are looking to strong responses to blame attacks on their sovereignty. What is considered their sovereignty changes from person to person and many can be reputed. One that you will probably recall was when Iran held the American Embassy 444 days and you may have forgotten, it appears that most of the West that the U.S. election brought that to an end.

English papers in Europe noted that our mayor lost a 50 - 0 vote to increase property tax. Regardless of where you stand on the political spectrum it is hard for anyone in the world to see this as normal. There are many other items that you might come up with, just do an internet search to help you draw your own conclusions. One fact that is hard to deny is that Putin's support can be considered weaker than when they first invaded Ukraine. Once again the U.S. press has not written much of the fact that the North Korean military has sent at least 8,000 troops to fight for the Russians in Ukraine. I hope this helps you understand why in the last election so many Americans decided that it was better to use American oil and not make aggressive regimes get rich. As always, I hope those of you reading this article can use it in a way to understand the situation better.

Recording Proposal For Stockyards Bank Site

An $80 million recording complex proposed by Third Coast Music is the winning respondent to a City of Chicago Request for Proposals for the landmark Stockyard Bank and adjacent land in New City.

The "Scoring Stage" complex would create a global destination at Halsted Street and Exchange Avenue for the recording of musical ensembles up to 100 people, with additional space for post-production, special events, education, and a Chicago music museum. Most recordings would be for the film, television and music industries, which currently lack a local, state-of-the-art recording complex for orchestras, choirs and other large groups.

The 76,000-square-foot project is one of two responses to a 2023 RFP for the 45,000-square-foot bank building, which the City acquired in 2000, and a one-acre vacant lot across Exchange that the City acquired in 1997.

Event space, classrooms and the museum would be housed within the former bank while recording and post-production uses would be housed within a new, 31,700-square-foot building that features an 8,000-square-foot scoring studio. Parking would be provided in a new multi-story garage.

Third Coast's proposed purchase price for the properties is $1.9 million. Construction financing would include grants and donations from institutions and benefactors, conventional loans, and public assistance that is yet to be determined. The sale and potential City assistance requires City Council authorization.

The Colonial Revival-style bank was designed by Abraham Epstein and completed in 1925 to serve industries and employees of the nearby Union Stock Yards and Central Manufacturing District. With its Palladian windows and central clock tower, the design is modeled on Independence Hall in Philadelphia. It was designated an official City landmark in 2008.

Art Contest For Illinois Students

The annual student art contest sponsored by the Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library and Museum and Illinois State Board of Education is expanding to welcome new types of entries, on the theme "A Touch of Art!"

The deadline to submit entries is Jan. 10th. The contest is open to Illinois students from kindergarten through high school for drawings and paintings, plus three-dimensional art.

Each age group: K-2, 3-5, 6-8, and 9-12 will have a winner and two runners-up. The winners will be announced on March 10th to commemorate Arts Education Week.

All winners and runners-up will have their work displayed by the Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library and Museum through Aug. 15th, and the artwork chosen as "best of show" will be used on a poster sent to schools to celebrate Arts Education Week, March 10-14. The winner will also be recognized during an ISBE Board meeting, and a framed copy will hang in the Board office.

Two-dimensional submissions may be up to 14 inches by 11 inches. Three-dimensional submissions must not exceed 12 x 12 x 12 inches. They cannot feature copyrighted characters. More details are available at bit.ly/ALPLM-ArtContest. Entries do not have to be submitted via schools or youth groups. All that is required is that the artist is a student at any public, private, alternative, or home school in Illinois.

The Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library and Museum holds an unparalleled collection of Lincoln books, documents, photographs, artifacts and art, as well as some 12 million items pertaining to all aspects of Illinois history. For more information, visit www.PresidentLincoln.illinois.gov.

Forest Preserves Reach 70,000 Acres

Forest Preserves of Cook County Board President Toni Preckwinkle and Interim General Superintendent Eileen Figel celebrate the agency's major milestone: officially holding more than 70,000 acres. The moment followed a vote by the Board of Commissioners to approve the purchase of a 68-acre parcel in Southeast Suburban Cook County.

The Forest Preserves of Cook County has reached a momentous milestone, officially holding more than 70,000 acres of land for the first time in its 110-year history.

Expansion included Tampier Lake near Orland Park in 1952, a popular location for boating and fishing that was created when Long Run Creek was dammed. Bobolink Meadow, farmland near Tinley Park that the Forest Preserves purchased in 1964, underwent major ecological restoration to the level that the site is now officially registered as an Illinois Land and Water Reserve.

The first segments of Wolf Road Prairie Nature Preserve was purchased in 1966, a property slated for development before the Great Depression and where prairie, savanna and wetland are now home to more than 360 native plant species. In 2006, the Forest Preserves acquired Bluff Spring Fen in Elgin, first cleaned of debris by local volunteers and today includes one of only about a dozen fens left in Illinois.

Purchased from the nonprofit Conservation Fund, the 68 acres is former farmland at Glenwood Dyer Road and Ridge Road. As a preserve, it will protect the floodplain and its ecosystem from development and holds potential for restoration of wetlands associated with the creek.

The Forest Preserves purchased its first property in 1916: 272 acres in what is now Deer Grove-East in Palatine. With additions of adjacent land, the preserves now hold nearly 2,000 acres of rolling upland forest, wooded ravines, wetlands and prairie.

LaBagh Woods was acquired in 1922, known as one of Chicago's best birding spots and the southernmost point of the 20-mile North Branch Trail System.

Annual Tax Sale Begins Dec. 10th

Thousands of Cook County property owners who owe less than $1,000 risk having their tax debt auctioned during an Annual Tax Sale that begins Tuesday, Dec. 10th according to Treasurer Maria Pappas.

To find out if your property is on the Annual Tax Sale list: Go to cook-countytreasurer.com. Use the purple box on the home page labeled "Your Property Tax Overview" and search using an address or Property Index Number (PIN). A banner with an urgent warning will appear if your property is on the Annual Tax Sale list.

By law, the Annual Tax Sale is held within 13 months of the Second Installment due date, which was Dec. 1st, 2023 for Tax Year 2022.

Owners of 51,811 properties owe more than $207 million in taxes that were due in 2023. Of those, 28,541 owe more than $1,000 while 23,270 owe less than $1,000, including owners of 16,181 properties in Chicago and 7,089 parcels in suburban Cook County.

If an owner does not redeem taxes sold at the Annual Tax Sale a tax buyer could take possession of the property itself. The process takes about two and a half years for residences and about a year for commercial properties.

A list of properties on the Annual Tax Sale list is posted at cook-countytreasurer.com.

Property owners who pay their late taxes before the Annual Tax Sale can avoid paying fees and additional interest charges.

DOH Program For Affordable Homes

The Chicago Department of Housing, in partnership with the Chicago Community Loan Fund, and The Resurrection Project, has opened applications for the new Shared Equity Investment Program. The initiative aims to expand homeownership, create wealth building opportunities, and support shared equity models of homeownership. The Shared Equity Investment Program has two tracks: Purchase Price Assistance led by TRP and Acquisition Support led by the CCLF. Purchase Price Assistance helps homebuyers reduce the cost of purchasing a housing cooperative unit, community land trust property, or a deed-restricted unit. Participants in this track can receive up to $60,000, with eligible grant uses including principal write-down, closing costs, private mortgage insurance premium, and down payment assistance. Homebuyers earning up to 120% of the Area Median Income are eligible. The Acquisition Support track will provide co-ops and CLTs funding to increase the number of affordable units. The program will provide up to $100,000 per unit for property acquisition, holding and legal costs. 51% of units must be priced and sold at rates affordable to households at 80% AMI or below. Interested individuals or organizations can apply online through TRP or CCLF. For more information on each Shared Equity Investment Program track and how to apply, visit Chicago.gov/SEIP.

Prepare For Winter Weather

Temperatures are dipping to freezing some nights and that means it's time to get ready for the cold.

Illinois Emergency Management Agency and Office of Homeland Security Director Alicia Tate-Nadeau says "If you take steps now to be ready for bitter winds, snow, and ice, you'll be grateful during the first storm."

Last winter, from December 2023 through March 2024, four snow or ice storms impacted Illinois. The previous winter, from November 2022 through March 2023 there were 10 snow or ice storms.

The National Weather Service is simplifying winter weather warnings and advisories to make it easier for the public to understand.

Residents are encouraged to keep a winter storm kit in their vehicles.
