

Midterm Elections

By Dr. R. Pletsch

This is a very strange election. I have been collecting student data since classes resumed in September. But from what I observed by interviewing students and staff, there is very little interest amongst the students for this election. The reason may be that here in the 3rd and 4th Congressional Districts there is no competition. The Democrats always win no matter who they run. Of course, earlier in the 3rd, a lot of money came here from national organizations to defeat Lipinski because he is pro-life and only votes the party way about 95% of the time. God forbid a politician should vote his conscience. Since he won the primary, we have heard no complaints about his voting.

In the statewide offices, the candidates seem to be all about the same. The questions that are posed to them have very little to do with the positions they are trying to win. There are issues they cannot vote on anyway. Who cares if a state office holder loves or hates Trump?

So I thought I would give the information I have received during the same time period from hundreds of Senior Citizens in the 3rd Congressional District. This is not a Pew Research, but they are our people and they have a higher record of actually voting than other groups do.

When asked the top issues in this election, they mentioned about 20 different issues. But the most often mentioned were: 1. They oppose open borders and sanctuary cities; 2. They fear Socialism because it has never worked; and 3. They are disappointed in all the politicians who have not stood up against those who want to disrupt life "kick them when they are down", "don't let them go in gas stations", and our local politicians have not spoken against comments like this.

Well, once again it shows their concerns how much it relates to local elections is probably negligible because what concerns them the most is not being addressed. In our area a Democratic vote is not against Trump and a Republican vote is not against Pelosi and Schumer.

I usually try and give the articles an educational spin. I have taught every grade from Pre-K to 12. I was always asked the question "Who will you vote for?". No matter how proud you are in the classroom, avoid the answer. Bring up issues if you must, try and find real stats and voting records. I recently called a candidate's office to see about the 60 bills that some candidate was to have voted against. Sad to say, they never got back to me. It is also time to try and get children to avoid voting because of likes and dislikes and commercials or what the candidate looks like, including race and gender. It also would be a good thing to let them know that elections are important, even when there does not seem to be any differences between the candidates.

His Eminence George Cardinal Mundelein established St. Richard Parish in 1928 which was briefly located in a storefront until land was purchased and a wooden church was constructed in October of that year. The resolution praised the parish for its many contributions over the decades to the Roman Catholic faithful of the community while tracing the its growth through the Great Depression and the real estate market boom of the 1950s until present day. Reverend Tom Bernas, (right) former Pastor of St. Richard Parish attended the presentation.

Public Urged To Be Vigilant

As law enforcement agencies around the country continue to intercept suspicious packages, the Cook County Department of Homeland Security and Emergency Management reminds residents to be alert. The department stresses the importance of the "If You See Something, Say Something" anti-terrorism campaign, urging residents to call 9-1-1 or notify on-site security for any immediate threats to life or property. Residents are asked to report any non-emergency suspicious activity by calling 855-RPRT-2-S4, the official local number of the campaign. "Our residents are our first line of defense in identifying and reporting any threats to public safety," said William Barnes, executive director of DHSEM. "Always be aware of your surroundings and do not hesitate to alert authorities to anything that appears unusual or out of place."

Suspicious activity may include: Unusual items or situations: A vehicle parked in an odd location; an unattended package or backpack. Information gathering: A person questioning individuals, beyond simple curiosity, about a building's operations, security, shift changes or personnel. Observation: Someone paying unusual attention to a facility, beyond a casual or professional interest. This includes loitering, as well as prolonged and repeated visits. It may also involve documenting these visits with a camera or extensive notes, measurements and sketches.

City Owned Lots Available For $1

Mayor Rahm Emanuel announced the Large Lots land sale program will open the first week of December, making approximately 4,000 vacant, City-owned lots on the South, Southwest and West sides available to residents to purchase for $1.

The Large Lots program launched in 2014 in greater Englewood as a recommendation of the City's "Five-Year Housing Plan" and "Green Healthy Neighborhoods" plan before expanding to include more than 30 additional community areas. Since its launch nearly 2,000 lots have been sold through the program. All sales are intended to support residential uses, with most lots being planned as side yards, community gardens or landscaped open spaces.

Ongoing surveys of Large Lots buyers by the U.S. Forest Service and University of Illinois indicate the most properties are purchased to help improve aesthetics, to create new social spaces for family and friends, and to grow flowers and vegetables. Buyers also report more community cohesion, more social interaction and quieter and safer streets through the program.

Applicants must own property on the same block, be current on property taxes and have no outstanding debt to the City, such as parking tickets or water bills, among other requirements. Up to two lots are available with each parcel sold "as-is" via a quit claim deed.

Applicants and additional information are available at www.LargeLots.org.

The cost includes 20 admission and five parking passes, a LED-lit tree, and signage featuring the group's town and the names of those who decorated and donated the tree.

Corporate trees, which are located around Roosevelt Fountain, are $500 and include 30 admission and 10 parking passes, a LED-lit 10-foot tree, and signage featuring company logo and name.

Health Care Insurance Rates

The Illinois Department of Insurance (DOI) released its on-Exchange health care rate and plan analysis for Plan Year 2019, showing that rates have stabilized for the first time in recent years.

Average rates for the 2019 lowest cost silver plans decreased four percent and the lowest cost gold plans decreased by six percent from last year. Overall, rates for the lowest cost bronze plans modestly increased approximately six percent, far less than the 20 percent increase reported for 2018 rates.

Illinois consumers in all counties will have options to purchase health insurance coverage on the Exchange.

Individuals and small businesses can purchase their health insurance on the GCI website. Because GCI facilitates the federal subsidies, consumers are able to see their monthly premium at the discounted price.

DOI is advising consumers enrolling or re-enrolling in coverage to start shopping early, due to the six week enrollment period set by the federal government, and to look at all options available to them on and off the Exchange, from November 1, 2018 to December 15, 2018.

Consumers are encouraged to visit <https://getcovered.illinois.gov> for further information and assistance. Anyone may call DOI at 866-311-1119 for additional resources and information.

Applications For After School Matters

After School Matters is accepting teen applications for its fall 2018 program session. More than 400 programs in the arts, communications and leadership, sports and STEM will be offered at more than 60 public high schools, as well as Chicago Park District, Chicago Public Library and community organization locations.

Participating teens will be eligible to earn a stipend of up to $425 (depending on the program level) and interns can earn up to $10.50 per hour.

A few of the exciting programs at Galley 37 downtown: ASM Youth Radio - Communications & Leadership. Teens interview their peers and produce long-form stories. Students are exposed to radio & audio story production skills, including technical skills, interviewing and writing. Culinary Arts - Teens learn cooking skills and methods needed in a professional kitchen. Apprentices recreate an international based menu

They explore a wide range of painting techniques and media, along with learning about contemporary art and studio practices. Finished paintings will be displayed at Gallery Walk.

Programs are free and open to Chicago residents who are at least 14 years of age (16 years of age for internships) and are high school students. An interview with program instructors is required. ## Safety Contest For Road Signs

The Illinois Department of Transportation is inviting the public to submit ideas for safety messages to display on the electronic signs located over highways throughout the state.

"Our dynamic message signs are seen by millions of motorists and are one of the best tools we have to reach the public with important information that can save lives," said Illinois Transportation Secretary Randy Blakenhorn.

"This contest is yet another way to drive home the message that driving has life or death consequences. Safety is everyone's responsibility. We look forward to seeing your ideas."

Some of the basic rules include: Keep it short and simple. Messages are restricted to three lines with 18 characters per line. Spaces and punctuation count as characters.

Each message must align with one of the six categories: distracted driving, impaired driving, speeding, occupant restraint, work zone safety and vulnerable users, such as motorcyclists, bicyclists and pedestrians.

One message from each category will be chosen for display by an internal IDOT committee. The deadline for submissions is Nov. 19th. Winners will be announced in early 2019.

Visit idot.illinois.gov/dms-contest to learn more about contest rules and to submit ideas. Visit the Travel Midwest site to see messages currently on display in real time.

Public Health Urges Flu Shot

The Illinois Department of Public Health recommends everyone six months and older be vaccinated. The nasal spray flu vaccine is once again a recommended option.

"It takes about two weeks after vaccination for antibodies that protect against flu to develop in the body," said IDPH Director Nirav D. Shah, M.D., J.D. "The flu season typically starts around October so we recommend you make plans to get vaccinated now, before flu season begins."

Flu activity peaks between December and February, but activity can last as late as May. The contagious respiratory illness can cause mild to severe illness.

The more people who get vaccinated, the more people will be protected, especially those who may not be able to be vaccinated.

Flu symptoms can include fever or feverish/chills, cough, sore throat, runny or stuffy nose, muscle or body aches, headache and tiredness. Some people may have vomiting and diarrhea, though this is more common in children than adults.

Flu is typically spread by droplets when someone with the flu talks, coughs, or sneezes. People can also get the flu by touching a door handle that has the virus on it and then touching their mouth, eyes, or nose.
